- B-2 1. Between 11 a.m. and noon 13 August 1951, 40 to 50 ground attack aircraft covered with tarpaulins were parked at the southern edge of Doeberitz airfield. Three biplanes were at the northeastern corner of the field. No aircraft were seen at the northwedge. A radio mast, with radio truck [REDACTED] guarded by a dog, was located in the northwestern corner of the field. Soldiers under the command of an NCO were digging holes, 30 meters apart, on the southwestern edge of the field. Two reconditioned lighting facilities were seen on the western edge of the field. A crossbar with two red lamps was fitted on top of a pole about 3.5 meters high. The two poles were about 3.5 meters apart. These were the only lighting facilities observed at the field. 25X1B
2. About 2 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. on 20 August, 25 to 30 IL-10s with red leading edges on their rudder assemblies and white-bordered Soviet stars were parked on the northern edge of the field, and 30 to 40 planes of the same type were seen at the southern edge. Of the latter aircraft those parked nearest to the road had blue leading edges on their rudder assemblies. A radio installation was located at the northwestern corner of the field. The excavation of holes was completed. Construction work on the small hangar in the northeastern corner of the field had progressed. A freight train loaded with coal was on the spur track. An IL-10 took off from the field about 5:30 p.m. There was no other activity.
- B-3 3. Between 10 and 11:25 a.m. on 20 August, 78 ground attack aircraft with red stripes on their tail units were parked at the northern section of the field. The white numbers 2, 7, 10, 16, and 32 were identified on five of the planes. Forty-one planes of the same type were seen at the southern section of the field. The tactical symbols on the planes could not be identified. 25X1B
- 25X1B were observed. *

25X1X * [REDACTED] moment. There are no indications that the previous occupation of the field by two ground attack regiments has changed. Due to large-scale air maneuvers, the number of air craft stationed at Doeberitz airfield has been changed repeatedly.
